Something of the Young Women Who Will Dominate Society this Year.

DOINGS IN SWELL CIRCLES THE PAST WEEK

A Pretty Kennington Revives Old Memories -Marriages of the Last seven Days -Celebrated Their Silver Anniversary.

The debutantes of this season are already attracting no end of attention from the men, and the older girls who are yet in the swim will have to look to their laurels, for these young women, who will shortly be launched on the social sea, are clever, interesting and pretty, and they will be in a position to die

Never has the social life of Omaha been so enriched as it will be this year, when eleven representatives of our leading families will step into the full light of fashion and become her votaries. The young ladies who will attract and hold the male gender this year are Miss Dandy, Miss Palmer, Miss Helen Millard, Miss Colpetzer, Miss Cady, Miss Weisster, Miss Gentie Yates, Miss Margaret Brown, Miss McKell, Miss Sadie Hambleton of Minucapolis, who will spend the winter with Mrs. Robert Clarkson,

Miss Dandy is a perite blonde, decidedly vivacious, bright in conversation, and interesting in all thines. She comes of an old down-east family and is the daughter of General George B. Dandy, U. S. A., sta-tioned at this post, Years ago Miss Dandy lived in Omaha and was a pupil at Brownell Hall, but later lived in San Antonio, Tex She plays the piano with considerable ability and is an all round jelly sort of a girl.

Miss Palmer, daughter of Captain H. B Palmer, is a very tall, handsome blonde stylish in carriage, with a refined bearing that is very charming. She comes from Mis-Graham's finishing school and in addition to good looks has a wonderfully, sweet contraite voice, which will be heard on many occasions

Miss Helen Millard, youngest daughter of the late Ezra Millard is the wit of the select circle of girls to make their bow this season. She is clever, talks well, her long residence abroad having given her a fine self posses sion, so essential to the successful society girl. And then she plays the violin with the grace of a Camilla Urso. She is a brunette in type and a very sweet girl.

Miss Colpetzer, daughter of the lumber

baron, Frank Colpetzer, will probably be the first to give a reception among the tantes. She is petite and a decided bru nette, willowy in form, a good dancer and bright talker. She is a graduate of Miss Brown's school, having spent three years in

Miss Hattie Cady, also a lumber baron's daughter, is small and fair, attractive in manner and will make a hit with the gentle-She finished at Miss Brown's school with Miss Colpetzer.

Miss Webster is a little above the medium height, stylish to a degree, and is the most self-possessed girl ever launched in Omaha society. Miss Webster comes from Mis Brown's school, although she spent a year at Miss Akin's school in Stamford, Conn But the girl who will be most popular and who in every way deserves success is Miss Gentie Peabody Yates, daughter of Banker H. W. Yates. She is a strikingly pretty brunette, tall, with a lovely complexion and the gentlest manner imaginable. She would make an ideal study for one of Tenny. son's "fair women." Bright in conversation self-possessed, Miss Yates is one of the brightest flowers among the debutantes. She comes from Miss Akin's school, graduating last June. ss Brown is a tall, handsome-appearing blonde, finely chiseled features and is the step-daughter of Mr. Charles H. Brown, and she is also a graduate of Miss Graham's Miss McKell is a tall and slender blond.

Miss Sadie Hambleton, who is the stepdaughter of Rev. Frank Millspaugh, fordean of the cathedral, is a graduate of Faribauit, Minn. She is a pronounced bru-nette with a very interesting face, a bright girl in every way, who will prove a decided addition to the class of debutantes. Miss Worden, a daughter of Captain Worden of the army, is dark complexioned, bright and sunshing, and will hold her own with the other jewels in this diadem of

Quiet Home Wedding.

Miss Mary Stephens and Mr. Robert E. Carr, jr., were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 4:30. The wedding was a very quiet function, only the relatives and a few of the most intimate friends of the bride and groom being present.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Stephens, old residents of this city. The groom, for the past six years, has been a resident of Omaha, coming from Lexington, Ky. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. E. Gramblet of the First Christian church. The house was beautifully decorated with smilax, ferns and flowers, the effect being most pleasing and appropriate to the occasion. The bridal presents were numerous and elegant.

Townsend and Powell.

On Wednesday, September 26, at the Central Christian church, Indiana avenue, Chicago, by Rev. Dr. Black, Miss Jessie Louise Powell of Chicago to William D. Townsend of Omaha. Mr. Frank L. Cowen of Duluth, Minn., acted as best man for the groom, and Misses Edith Horne and Ethel Annette, nieces of the bride, as flower girls. A large number of friends from Omaha attended the wedding ceremonies, Mrs. Charles Black of this city officiating at the plane, and rendering the wedding march for the occasion.

Among those present were: Judge and Mrs. Horne and Mrs. Annette, of Chicago, relatives of the bride; and Charles H. Townsend, of this city; Mrs S. N. Sherwin and Mrs J. E. Riordan, of Colorado City, Tex; Mr. and Mrs E. P. Hotchkiss, of Chicago, and Miss Lulu Potter, of Oakland, Wis. relatives of the groom.

Tammediately after the ceremony the newly wedded pair took the train for this city, where, upon their arrival, they were tendered a reception by the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Townsend, of 2535 St. Mary's avenue.

Pretty Kensington. Mrs. Dr. W. H. Sherraden of 1438 South Twenty-eighth street gave a most enjoyable Censington Thursday from 3 to 6 in honor of her sister, Mrs. M. J. Greevy of Spokane, Wash, who is visiting in the city. Mrs. Sherraden possesses the rare charm of bringing people into perfect sympathy, hence her great success as a hostess. One always wenders what novel idea will be in-troduced at her functions, and this time it was that each lady should draw a cat on a daintily decorated palette, drawings to be judged by a committee of three. Mrs. Greavy won the prize and Mrs. Griffith the Greery won the prize and Mrs. Griffith the booby, the prizes being a tray cloth embroidered in buttercups and a dolly of Irish point, both being the work of the hostess.

Those present were: Mrs. Greevy of Spokane, Wash.; Mms. Sherraden of Council Bluffs, ie, Mrs. Eggleston, Mrs. Bloomer Vicker, Mrs. Talmadge, Mrs.

Celebrated Their Sliver Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. H. Theilgaard celebrated their silver wedding at Washington hall, Mr. Theilgaard is one of the most popular Danes in Omaha, where he has lived for over twenty years, and has very many friends. The silver wedding party con-sisted of nearly 200 prominent Scandinavians and was one of the most brilliant social affairs ever witnessed in Danish circles in Omaha. Washington hall was magnificently illuminated and decorated with flacs, ban-ners, bunting and an abundance of tropical plants and gorgeous flowers. The wedding presents, consisting of silver and fine china-ware, were exhibited in the ladies' parlor.

Lyceum Crub Party. The Saratoga Lyceum club gave another of its delightful parties at its hall Wednesday evening. While in Boston this summar Mes. I. W.

While in Boston this summer Mrs. J. W. Cotton took a course of instruction with Mr. Damrosch in his system of sight-reading. Mrs. Cotton is very enthusiastic over the system, declaring it to be of the greatest help to all singers who wish to perfect them-selves in sight-reading, being especially of benefit to young singers, or those just commencing to study, inasmuch as it is not at all difficult. At the urgent solicitation of her many pupils Mrs. Cotton has decided to organize a class in this system at orce, and in doing this will follow Mr. Damrosch's policy of making the rates so low that all who wish may avail themselves of the in-

THE THEATERS.

"The Crazy Patch," which is perhaps among the most celebrated of all the modern farce-comedies, comes to the Boyd for three nights, commencing Monday evening next, after an absence of many years. The St. Paul Globe says of the new production of "Crazy Patch:" "Of all the mirth-provoking pieces that have been produced here 'Crazy Patch' takes the lead. It pubbles over with fun. A better pleased audience has not been seen in the Grand opera house this season. 'Crazy Patch' belongs to the numerous family of abourd plays which are now having such a run, but it differs from them all in having a well defined plot and possessing the merit of fresh humor as unique in style as it is grotesque. There is more genuine comedy in it than in 'Rag Baby,' 'Tiu Soldier' or other kindred plays. It is said to have been written for laughing purposes only,' and most successfully does it fulfill its mission, as the audience was kept in an almost uninterrupted roar of laughter from the time the curtain first went up until it fell the last time."

Thomas W. Keene, the well known tragedian, comes to the Boyd the first three nights of next week with a strong company and a strong repertoire. Since his last ap-pearance here Mr. Keene played a long en-gagement in New York City and his reception was like an ovation. Mr. Keene now stands at the bead of the list of American tragedians, a position which he is eminently qualified to maintain.

Elmer E. Vance's realistic drama, "The amited Mail." will be the attraction at Boyd's theater for four nights, comm Thursday evening next, "The Limited dail" has been played over a thousand time throughout the country, and has everywhere won the highest recognition. The most fasidious lovers of sensational and realistic drama have in this play all they can desire. The mechanical and scenic effects are striking pictures of the real, and the departure of the limited mail, the escape and the wreek produce grand effects. As for the play, it abounds in himor and there is a tinge of that homely pathos running through it that is always creative of interest. It is a graphically degree plates. cally drawn picture of life on the rail, and in its unfoldings are employed some remark-able and successful pieces of imitative real ism. The flight of the limited mail is said to be the best railroad scene ever presented on the stage. The engine and train dash across the stage, exploding a warning toro, and stopping in the cut beyond and backing to the station.

WILL THINK IT OVER.

Judge Ferguson Takes the Franklin School Case Under Advisement.

The hearing in the injunction case instituted by the Midland State bank, wherein the representatives of the school district of Omaha, consisting of the officers of the Board of Education and Treasurer Bollo, are sought to be restrained from paying any of the remaining moneys for the erection of the Franklin and Hartman schools to anybody but the bank, took place in Judge Ferguson's

Court yesterday afternoon.
Contractor A. H. Donecken was present and represented by attorney to fight the case. Some $7,000 is the sum yet unpaid for the construction of these buildings. After the question as to the validity Donecken's assignment to the bank in the face of a clause in the contract which pro-hibited any transfer, had been argued proand con from the respective standpoints of the legal lights, the judge took the entire matter under advisement until some day this week, whe he will render his decision

Mrs. J. W. Cotton will organize a class in the Damrosch system of sight reading. A term of twenty lessons will be given at 15 cents a lesson. Ladies wishing to join will send in their names as quickly as possible. Address applications to Mrs. J. W. Cotton, 206 North Nineteenth street,

Manufacturers Will Meet.

On Friday, October 6, at 1 o'cleck, the manufacturers of Omaha will meet in room 604, BEE building, for the purpose of electing directors of the Manufacturers and Consumers association. Similar meetings will be called in other cities of the state for the same purpose. After the directors are all elected there will be a meeting of the directors from all the cities of the state having a membership in the Manufacturers associa tion, and they will elect officers for the ensuing year. Secretary Holmes will present a full report of the work of the association, the con-dition of the finances, etc. It is understood that this report will be very flattering, showing the association to be in better shape than ever before. The secretary is urging upon all the Omaha memters to at-tend the meeting next Friday, as a great deal of the success of the association de-pends upon the election of capable men to act as directors.

Trees Are Secured.

The park commissioners met yesterday afternoon and transacted considerable business. Dr. Miller was not present, he being in Chicago. He left a letter for the board, however, which contained a magnanimou offer. The doctor offered to furnish the board with the large trees necessary for Miller and Fontanelle parks, taking the same from Seymour parks. He also stated that in case he was able to do so he desires to meet half of the expense of transplanting the trees in Miller park next spring. The superintendent was directed to spring. The superintendent was directed to Bills for the month, amounting to $6,900, vere allowed. The members discussed a change in the The memoers discussed a change in the plans of the roof for the Hauscom park pavilion, the present ones being far from satisfactory. The committee on improvements and the architects will visit the pavilion Tuesday and decide upon some recommendation for changes. The contract for putting the electrical fixtures and wiring in the pavilion was awarded to Russell & in the pavilion was awarded to Russell & Pratt, the firm's bid being $587.

Charity Ball. Omaha camp 120 of Modern Woodmen of America having received a communication from Rev. A. W. Clark, superintendent of the city mission, requesting a donation in order to enable the City mission to prosecute its good work of charity in relieving distress among the poor during the coming winter, has decided to give a charity ball at its nall, corner Fifteenth and Douglas streets, on Wednesday, October 25. The camp will furnish its hall free of charge and will do all in its power to secure such articles as may be necessary free of cost, so as to make the net proceeds as large as possible, which will be donated to the City mission to be used in assisting the poor. The committee and members of the camp will call on the business men to sell them tickets, as we look to them to make it a success. to them to make it a success.

Y. W. C. A. Prospering.

The Young Women's Christian association has been patronized better than ever during the past week, nearly seventy having registered daily. The work is prospering in every way, but more funds are needed, as the present income will not warrant the engagement of a general secretary, which is essential to the further growth of the work of the society. Every woman in Omaha should be interested in this organization, and if possible should give so aething towards its support.

The society needs supplies of various sorts tables, table linen, etc. Those who have never visited the rooms would be astonished to see the crowd that fills the place during the noon hours. Visitors are always wel-come and application blanks will be supplied to all who wish to become members.

Miss Mason's school for dressmaking gives a thorough course from taking measures to finishing a garment. Ladies make from two to four dresses in a term of twenty lessons, at $10 a term. 2227 Dodge street. Dress-makers are invited to call and examine.

Accident at a Funeral.

Ripon, Wis., Sept. 30.-While the funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Bow, wife of Assemblyman Bow, were in progress at Kingston, the floor of the residence gave way, letting 100 people down into the cellar. Mrs. Valburg was fatally hurt. Fully one-third of those who were carried down by the collapse are injured.

John S. Knox's Speech in Praise of South Omaha.

MARVELOUS GROWTH OF THE MAGIC CITY

God Made the Country but Man Made the Town-Fame of the Southern Suburb Knows No Boundary-An Eloquent Address.

John S. Knox, traffic manager of the Cudahy Packing company, responded to the toast of "South Omaha" at the Commercia club banquet, recently given in this city. Mr. Knox's response in full was as follows:

"In this western country of ours, wonderdevelopment and its magnificent achieve ments, and more wonderful still for its future possibilities, it has become common and natural for the speculators, boomers and advertisers to call all the adjectives with which our language abounds, and frequently to coin new ones, in describing the alleged progress, advantages and attractions of certain localities. Our cars and eyes ar familiar with such terms as 'Maric City of the Plains, 'Gate City of the West, 'Future Great City of the World,' etc. Occasionally n this mass of exaggeration and hyperbole a place is found that not only warrants all the praise that has been heaped upon it, but when its works have become fully known will justify the expression of Sheba's queen

'The half has not been told.' "Such a city I believe is the one named in the toast to which I respond, South Omaha, the Third Meat Producing Center of th World,' and I esteem it both a privilege and a pleasure to speak a few words in her be half on this occasion. Go back with me in imagination but nine short years. The lands which then were used for ordinary farming purposes are now dotted with the homes of a ousy, thriving, energetic, metropolitan people. Where then a few lonely cattle and swine grazed and fattened on the hillside pastures and the confields of the valleys now are gathered each succeeding year millions of meat producing animals, which are rapidly converted into foods to supply the ever increasing demands of all the nations of the earth. In the words of the dear old hymn, slightly altered to suit the occasion, we may say;

'From Greenland's ley mountains, From India's coral strand, They call us to deliver Our meats so nicely canned.'

"The land then devoted to grain and grass is now covered with mammoth buildings filled with massive machinery and thousands of busy operatives, wide spreading stock yards, miles of railway tracks, school houses, churches, banks, business blocks, paved streets, electric cars, and all the conveniences and appliances of a large, well regulated, progressive, modern city. Our population numbers, perhaps, not more than 15,000 souls. But population is not the true index of a city's greatness, no more than miles really measure distance. We ask to be judged by our volume of business the only correct standard. Conservative bankers estimate our trade in and outbound at more than $100,000,000 annually. A sum almost too great for the ordinary mind to contemplate and vastly in excess of that shown by numerous other cities, outnum per-ing us many folds. A high official of the Western Union Telegraph company informed me a year ago that South Omaha was a more productive office to his company, in point of revenue, than Indianapolis, a city of more than 100,000 inhabitants.

"I do not, therefore, think I exaggerate when I venture the opinion that South Omaha would today be a city of 75,000 peo-ple if located 100 miles distant from any other large center. This, by the way, should indicate to our Omaha friends how much of their population, their business and their prosperity hinges upon their little southern "We are, as has been truly said by one of your leading merchants, the backbone of Omaha. Our industries employ more operatives than all the manufacturing concerns o Omaha and Council Bluffs combined. Our pay rolls aggregate the princely sum of $5 000,000 per annum. More than $16,000 per day is poured into the tills of the retail merchant, thus keeping healthy the otherwise stuggish life blood of commerce,

"Our preparations embrace everything which ingenuity or science can suggest, and should the toothsome dainties induce over e ting and indigestion, lo; we have from the same animals that produced the trouble antidotes in the form of pepsin and its viried compounds made in the laboratories of our pharmaceutical department as modern application of the old adage, The hair of the dog is good for his bite. The live stock and packing industries of South Omaha have made her name and fame familiar in every land and in every clime We draw our live stock from the grassy plains of sunny Texas, from the ranges of indian Territory, New Mexico, Utah and Arizona, from the ranches of Colorado, Wyoming and Montana, and from the farms of Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Dakota; our lumber and cooperage from the forests of the south and the pineries of the north, our salt from the wells of Kansas, the mines of New York and Louisiana, and from the dis-tant islands of the sea; our tin plate direct from the great works of England and Wales. We supply food to every state in the union and to almost every country on the globe. The products of South Omaha are to be found in all parts of the world. Explorers to the summits of the Himalays mountains carry these goods as a part of their outfit, Arctic explorers depend upon them, and sca-going ships on long voyages fill their store rooms with them.

Triumph of Energy.

"While we owe much of this tremendous progress to natural advantages, the greatest meed of praise should be accorded those sturdy, brave and stalwart men who with indomitable pluck and energy have brought to a successful conclusion the great enter-prises which they planned in spite of numer-ous obstacles and the determined opposition of competitors. Never was a better exem-plification of the truism, 'God made the country, but man made the town.'

"Now let us dwell for a moment on our fu-ture prospects. We already stand as a meat producing center close to the city which holds second rank and each succeeding year sees the line of demarcation grow beautifully less. We are thus forging steadily ahead, notwithstanding the many glaring discriminations in rate conditions from which we have long suffered. But we begin to see the dawn of a better day—the gath-ering here tonight—the organization of this club are augmuries of such future harmo-nious and concentrated effort as we have never before enjoyed and good results will surely follow. We ask nor need no advan-tages over our competitors, but we tages over our competitors, but we do demand equal rates and facilities and will never relax our efforts till we obtain them, and when that time comes, as come it must and will, South Omaha will receive such an impetus that she will leap with such as a sound brought to the with almost a single bound into the second place, and who dares prophesy that future generations will not witness here a city greater even than Chicago. When the millions of acres that surround us shall yield up their fullest measure of produce under scientific cultivation, the herds and flocks and droves will be beyond our present com-prehension and render possible the perma-nent location in South Omaha of not the third, not the second, but the first and

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The lovers of sensational melodrama, and here are legions, will greet with delight the return to Omaha of Harry Williams' superb spectacular production of Katie Emmett's great play, "The Waifs of New York," "The great play, "The Waifs of New York." "The Waifs" will hold the boards at the Farnam Street theater for four nights and two matinees, commencing with matinee today at 2:30. The scenery is reported by a con temporary to be the very best yet presented to the public. The Harlem river bridge railroad scene, with its passing trains, the Tombs police court, old Trinity church, Cas-tle garden and the ultra sensational fire scene at Five Points, in which scene is inscene at rive rolling, in troduced a genuine Watrous fire engine, operated by firemen and drawn by trained horses, are the salient features of scenic effect in this popular play.

Turnverein Entertainment. Invitations have been sent out by the Omaha turnverein to its members requesting their presence at an entertainment to be given Sunday, October 1, at Germania hali. The program for the occasion, aside from exhibitions of amateur athletic skill, includes music and amateur theatricals. The latter during the winter season of last year proved a great drawing card and attracted great numbers of Germans to the hall. COURT CULLINGS. Stegner on Trial-Price Found Guilty of Highway Robbery. The criminal division of the district court Judge Reysor presiding, was occupied yester day foremon in the trial of William Stegner who is known under a dozen different altases, including that of Stine.

He is accused by the presecuting witness, Miss Bartels, of stealing a lot of jewelry and wearing apparel. He accomplished this by inducing the complainant, as she avers to accompany him across the river to Coun cil Bluffs, under the pretense that he needed a cook for a large farce of men whom he had working for him in lowa. Once in Council Bluffs he gained possession of her purse and jewelry, while he ordered her purse and jewelry, while he ordered her trunks containing all her possessions shipped from here to Kansas City, where Stegner himself was apprehended a few days later. Quite a number of witnesses for the state were examined, and at noon further trial of the case was continued until next Monday. The attention of a jury and Judge Duffle is engaged in the libel suit of Johanna Johnson against Charles E. Bates. Once before the same case has been heard by Judge Davis and a jury, who awarded by Judge Davis and a jury, who awarded Johanna $300 for damaged reputation, but he judgment was later set presiding judge granting a new trial. Before it came to a second trial, lowever, the com-plainant's attorney. Judge Brown, died, and the case was dismissed only to be instituted a trird time after almost a year's delay. A verdet linding George Price guilty of assault with intent to row was returned totay by the jury trying the case against him. Price and another man as previously pub-ished by this paper, tried to hold up Walliam Bowman early one evening on Eighteenth and Dodge streets, but his cyil designs mis-carried and he was apprehended, while his artner escaped.

The Jury in the case of William Bushman against William F. Stoecker, which came on appeal from a lower court, brought in a verict this morning, finding for the defendant, Bushman had sued the latter under an alleged lease for rent of a house which Stoecker had vacated before the lease term-

ROTHWELL IN JAIL.

He is Said to Be Implicated in a Cattle Steal in Pierce County. W. L. Rothwell is a prisoner at the county ail, who was brought up from South Omaha

Friday night on a charge of being implicated in a cattle steal in Pierce county. The arrest was made originally by the sheriff of that county on a warrant from a justice of the peace there who commanded that the prisoner be turned over to Douglas county authorities. A warrant was consequently aworn out by the owner of the stock before Justice Smith of this city.

According to the complaint Jacob Bloom of Pierce county co-operated with Rothwell, who is employed by a South Omaha commis-sion firm, in stealing forty-three head of cattle belonging to a firm composed of A. E. Smith, E. J. Sherwood and Merritt Sherman, the latter appearing as companiant in The cattle were sold in South Omaha through Rothwell, who, it is alleged, had full knowledge of the steal. One thousand, two hundred and four dollars is given as the sum realized on the stock, of which Roth-
